

國立嘉義大學九十四學年度
外國語言學系碩士班招生考試試題

科目：英語教學

Please answer each of the following questions in English.

1. For certain types of activity, pair work and group work have a number of advantages over working with the whole class together. Please think what the main advantages are, and also what problems might be involved in pair work and group work. (25%)
2. Many parents hold a belief that students may benefit more if they have native-English speakers as their teachers. Do you agree? Considering the context of Taiwan, what may be the advantages and disadvantages for EFL learners to have a native-English speaker or a non-native English speaker as their teacher? (25%)
3. Portfolio assessment is recommended in the nine-year integrated curriculum guidance as a possible evaluation approach. What is portfolio assessment? Please discuss the advantages and limitations of using portfolio assessment in English teaching. (25%)
4. The Whole Language Approach has brought motivating and innovative ways to teach language arts skills to elementary school students in New Zealand and the United States. Some scholars and educators have also indicated possible applications of whole language practices to EFL classrooms. What is The Whole Language Approach? Do you agree that The Whole Language Approach has a place in Taiwan's EFL classrooms? Why or why not? (25%)