

Course: Research Seminar on Taoism Literature Credit: 2 Hours: 2

Elective

Class:

Instructor: Zhou Xi-Po

E-mail: hsipo@mail.ncyu.edu.tw

Office: B01-521

I. Course Description:

This course is intended to introduce students to a semester of time to the development of Taoism and Taoist literature masterpieces main profile, thus to explore available and to explore the literary material, combined with the traditional literature, describes analysis and Taoist culture is closely related to poetry, drama, fiction, parallel, prose and other works.

II. Teaching objectives:

Taoism far-reaching influence on Chinese culture, not only in thought, belief, and folklore and so on, the development of Chinese literature is also closely related. This course is expected that the development of Taoism, characteristics, influence of the introduction, for students to understand different aspects of Chinese literature content.